

There's a Chill in the Air

That reminds us of the coming of Fall and cold weather. We have been preparing for these cold days for many months and our lines of Fall and Winter Merchandise were never better selected or more complete than this season. Aside from our splendid collection of new Coats, Suits, and Outer Apparel, we offer you some exceptional values on other items about the store, including household needs.

Outing Robes

We bought these last March, had them delivered and paid for them then; that's why we can quote you last year's prices.

Wayne Knit Hosiery

For women and children there's none better. Either seamless or full fashioned. All weights, sheer, lisle, heavy fleeced, or dainty silks. Try them.

Knitting Yarns

That are very much in demand, either Fluchers or Lion Brand, not every shade to be sure, but a good variety to select from, and prices most reasonable.

Blankets and Comforters

Fortunately we bought twice our usual amount of Blankets. We bought them early, that's why our prices are low and variety large. They are going fast.

TALK OF THE TOWN

John A. Cross and H. H. Cross, Northfield granite manufacturers, were among the business visitors in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Ellis, who were called here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Sarah J. King, have returned to their home in Old Orchard, Me.

Joseph Halligan has resumed his duties as driver of the Websterville truck, after having been confined to his home in Websterville during the past few days on account of a slight injury which he received a few days ago.

Mrs. Paul Plaisted of Montpelier has gone to Hartford, Conn., having been advised by telegraph of the serious illness of her husband. Mr. Plaisted was formerly employed as a jitney driver between Barre and Montpelier.

A series of posters boosting the campaign of the United States food administration have been distributed about town. The posters make a strong appeal for the conservation of food and some of them reveal fine artistic touches in their make-up.

At city hall Friday, Sept. 28, Miss Clara Edith LaFrance of 327 North Main street, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George LaFrance of Highgate Springs, and Private Clyde E. Church of Westfield, Mass., were married by Justice of the Peace James Mackay. Intimate friends of the bride and groom were not advised of their intentions and it was only within a day or two that many of their acquaintances were advised of the outcome of the "war" romance. The groom returned at once to Westfield, where he expected to leave within a few days for an unknown destination. Private Church enlisted in the 1st Vermont infantry and was transferred to the 20th division when the state National Guard was divided.

"Barre Granite," the monthly publication issued by the Granite Manufacturers' association, is observing its first birthday, the periodical having been issued for the first time in October, 1916. The little magazine has been growing steadily in size as well as favor and the current issue sets the pace for those that are to follow in volume two. The result of a questionnaire recently conducted by the editor, Sec. H. P. Hinman, in an effort to obtain from dealers their opinions on the advertising campaign are interestingly told. Edward N. Hurley's series on "The Awakening of Business" is continued and the editorial column asks of the manufacturers the pertinent question, "What salary do you allow yourself?" Appreciative letters from cemetery superintendents entertained here in August are reproduced and some of the stirring scenes which marked the final round-up in Williamstown gulf are given in half-tones.

THE WORLD SERIES

Will Be Shown on Score Board at Opera House.

All up for the world's series in Barre! Every game of the "crooshul" series between the Chicago Americans and the New York Nationals is to be reproduced on an electric score board in the opera house, according to an announcement made by Manager J. E. Hoban this morning. The score board, a somewhat gigantic affair of the translucent glass, incandescent globes and insulated wire, arrived in town to-day and is being installed on the stage of the theatre.

Barre fandom and baseball enthusiasts in surrounding towns, for that matter, will be privileged to witness the game on the very latest score board. The device which the enterprise of Manager Hoban has brought to Barre is the one which was used a year ago in Mechanic's hall in Boston. Once before it conveyed tidings of a world's series tournament to a crowd of anxious fans at Barre's field. Again—and there were series games in Boston that year—the score board now in Barre was used by the New York Tribune in Newspaper row.

It is the first electrically operated score board to be used in Washington county, if not in Vermont. Another score board has been set up elsewhere in the county in years past, but it is operated by hand. The Colson board to be used in Barre, beginning with the first game Saturday afternoon, depicts every move that can be made in a baseball game. It is said that every play is indicated by the electric lamps, and when the game is over the audience on the actual playing field knows no more about it than the audience before the score board.

A Letter From Washington

The Food Administrator Writes Us:

"The use of baking powder breads made of corn and other coarse flours instead of patent wheat flour is recommended by the Conservation Division of the Food Administration. The wheat needed for export is thus conserved, and at the same time healthful food for our own people is provided. The circulation of recipes providing for these uses would be of assistance in carrying out our plans."

The following recipes for Corn Bread and Rye Rolls save wheat flour and make attractive and wholesome food for every day when made with

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

CORN BREAD

1 1/2 cups corn meal
4 cups flour
4 level teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups milk
2 tablespoons shortening
